

City of Westminster Covent Garden

Covent Garden is a district in London on the eastern fringes of the West End, between St. Martin's Lane and Drury Lane. It is associated with the former fruit and vegetable market in the central square, now a popular shopping and tourist site, and the Royal Opera House, which is also known as "Covent Garden". The district is divided by the main thoroughfare of Long Acre, north of which is given over to independent shops centred on Neal's Yard and Seven Dials, while the south contains the central square with its street performers and most of the elegant buildings, theatres and entertainment facilities, including the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, and the London Transport Museum.

East Colonnade Market 10am - 7pm

Open every day of the week, the East Colonnade Market has a variety of stalls from hand-made soap, jewellery, hand-bags & belts, hand-knitted children's clothing, a magicians stall, confectionary and home-ware to artwork.

Apple Market

We joined the Apple Market's arts and craft makers on one of the busiest days of the week, getting up close and personal, to hear the insiders' view from some of this historic area's busiest traders.

From Tilly with her fabulously ornate greetings cards, to Peter and his ridiculously cute teddy bears, this slice of life is an inspiring introduction to the masters (and mistresses) of their craft. A happier bunch we have yet to meet.

Jubilee Hall Monday-Friday: 9:30am-6:00pm. Saturday & Sunday: 9:00am-6:00pm

On Mondays, Jubilee Market is dedicated to Antiques; from Tuesday-Friday, a General Market operates, with traders selling clothing and household goods, and on Saturday and Sunday Jubilee Market offers arts and crafts.
